Factory Tours Done Safely with ListenTALK

COVID-19 SOLUTION

Greenvale is a leading provider of fresh potatoes in the UK and is the largest supplier of organic potatoes in the country. With two facilities to package potatoes for processors, retailers, and wholesalers, Greenvale sources fresh potatoes from 200 growers in the UK as well as from its own growing operation.

PROBLEM

Greenvale wanted to improve the customer tours of its facilities while also following COVID-19 safety precautions including physical distance and required face masks.

SOLUTION

Greenvale chose ListenTALK as its facility tour solution. The two-way mobile group communication system helps users overcome the challenges that social distancing, face coverings, background noise, and hearing loss pose to communication.

Users wear a small, lightweight transceiver (combination transmitter/receiver) on a lanyard around their neck and connect a headset provided by the factory or their own headphones or earbuds. They can hear everything their factory guide says and can speak to the group by pressing the talk button on the transceiver.

ListenTALK devices can also be sanitized between uses to help stop the spread of viruses and bacteria.

RESULT

With the ListenTALK system, Greenvale offers an exceptional customer tour experience where everyone can follow safe social distancing practices while easily communicating with each other.
